CLINIC DESCRIPTION: NMDA is pleased to present both Bill McMullin Dressage Clinics. Bill currently trains and teaches out of Drywater Farm in Stoughton, MA where he and Bill Warren operate Warren-McMullin Dressage. From December through April they extend their operation to Wellington, FL for the winter training and show season. Bill is a USDF Gold Medalist, USDF Certified Instructor and Certification Faculty Member, and a USEF 'R' dressage judge. He believes that continuing education is an extremely important part of being a professional in our sport. He works closely not only with Bill Warren, but with Conrad Schumacher who makes several visits per year to both MA and FL for continued training assistance with a variety of horses. Additionally, George Williams rounds out the training during the year with clinics in MA and FL. Bill feels that they all share a similar philosophy in the training of horses, which is based on Classical methods and all are always concerned with the welfare of the horse. Western Dressage riders welcome! Website: www.warrenmcmullindressage.com
