

Maribeth St Cyr, Candidate for NMDA President

My name is Maribeth St Cyr and I would greatly appreciate your vote for President for a third term.

My background includes a long career in leadership in retail and grocery. I am a lifelong horse enthusiast and began to learn about Dressage after moving to New Mexico from California 28 years ago. I own two lovely Hanoverian geldings who capture my heart every day.

During my second term we increased the number of educational opportunities, scheduled regular social events, maintained a healthy membership number and most importantly, put on NMDA's first USDF Recognized Show.

My future plans for NMDA include continuing to make Recognized shows accessible to all riders, continuing to support our educational efforts and fill open positions on the board.

I hope you support my continued service to NMDA and it's members. See you in the arena!

Kim Fredenburgh, Candidate for NMDA Vice President

Kim started riding in upstate NY at the age four. As a teenager she competed in Medal/Maclay hunter seat equitation classes and also foxhunted. In college she was the captain of the Intercollegiate show jumping team at SUNY Stonybrook. As a young adult she experimented with eventing and eventually settled on dressage as her favorite sport. She has competed a number of horses that she has bred or found on racetracks or bought through on-line auctions. She is recently retired after 25 years as the professor of viola at UNM. She is a principal musician with Santa Fe Symphony and the New Mexico Philharmonic. Her husband Kevin also enjoys riding and her older son competes in equestrian Special Olympics. Her younger son just won a position in the Philadelphia Orchestra bass section.

Amy Glenn, Candidate for NMDA Member at Large

Amy Glenn is a local dressage instructor and trainer. She works out of riders' barns in Albuquerque, Corrales, East Mountains and Cherry Tree Farm in the South Valley. She began riding with Dorothy Sachey on Long Island, NY. Later, she trained with Dorothy's son Dan, a former 3-Day Gold Medalist.

After college and a career in film production she relocated to NM and began her journey into dressage. Amy is a USDF Bronze, Silver and Gold Medalist having trained both her horses to FEI level.
